In the specification:

The abstract of the disclosure stands objected to because the abstract is written less than 50 words in length. Please amend the abstract as follows:

In one embodiment, a method to operate a multiply-accumulate execution unit is presented. The method includes the following. Input data is received by an execution unit. One or more current multiply-accumulate operations are performed by the execution unit on the received input data and on input data received by the execution unit for one or more prior multiply-accumulate operations and saved by the execution unit.